Wesley Evers on ABC's "The Rookie"

Actor Shawn Ashmore is best known for starring as Bobby Drake, otherwise known as Iceman, in the highly successful "X-Men" movie franchise, and reprised his role in "X-Men: Days of Future Past." Keeping with his superhero roots, he was recently seen as Lamplighter on Amazon Prime's cult hit "The Boys." Ashmore can currently be seen in ABC's "The Rookie" and also starred alongside Haley Attwell in the drama series "Conviction" on the same network. He can next be seen in theaters in "It Feeds" opposite Ashley Greene whom he also starred opposite in "Aftermath" which was a Top 10 movie hit on Netflix for weeks. He also appeared on Netflix in both "Devil's Gate" and "Acts of Violence" opposite Bruce Willis and Cole Hauser. Ashmore was seen in theaters in the dark thriller "Hollow in the Land," which received rave reviews from critics and can also be seen in "Darkness Falls" on Amazon Prime as well as a Blumhouse TV's "Into the Dark" and "The Free Fall" on Hulu.

Ashmore starred as Mike Weston opposite Kevin Bacon on Kevin Williamson's hit psychological thriller series, "The Following," which aired for three seasons on the FOX network. The series was the most successful new original drama of the 2013 season.

In film, Ashmore starred in the Sundance Film Festival screened "Frozen," about three skiers stranded on a chairlift, who are forced to make life-or-death choices as well as the post-apocalyptic thriller "The Day," which screened at the 2011 Toronto International Film Festival. He played the lead role in the Canadian telefilm, "Diverted," a fictional story about what happened to passengers aboard a flight on 9/11. In 2008, he played the role of Eric in the Dreamworks sci-fi thriller "The Ruins."

In 2004, he won the MTV Movie Award for Breakthrough Male for his role in the "X-Men" sequel "X2: X-Men United."

In 2005, amongst other films, he starred in "Terry," in which he played the heroic Terry Fox, who after losing his leg to cancer ran across Canada in 1980 to raise money and awareness for the disease. The film went on to receive numerous accolades and award nominations including a Best Film and Best Actor Gemini Nomination for Ashmore. This was not his first nomination: Early in his career in 1994, he was nominated for a Gemini Award for his work as Waylon Tibbins in the TV movie "Guitarman."

Ashmore grew up in Richmond, British Columbia, Canada.
