'GOOD MORNING AMERICA' ANNOUNCES RETURN OF ITS 2023 SUMMER CONCERT SERIES FEATURING CHART-TOPPING ARTISTS

Jung Kook of BTS Kicks Off the Series on Friday, July 14, in New York City's Central Park

'GMA' Concerts Also Present Tim McGraw, Hozier, Fitz and The Tantrums, Carly Rae Jepsen, Sam Hunt and 50th Anniversary of Hip-Hop Show With Fat Joe and Remy Ma, as well as Busta Rhymes Featuring BIA

ABC News' "Good Morning America" announced today the return of its Summer Concert Series, featuring award-winning, world-renowned artists. The series launches on Friday, July 14, when global popstar Jung Kook of BTS takes the stage in New York City's Central Park to perform his songs, including solo debut single "Seven." The lineup includes some of the hottest names in music, with live performances by GRAMMY Award®-winning country superstar Tim McGraw, international sensation Hozier, multiplatinum group Fitz and The Tantrums, pop singer-songwriter Carly Rae Jepsen and bestselling artist Sam Hunt. Plus, to celebrate the 50th anniversary of hip-hop, the series will feature a concert with GRAMMY Award-nominated artists Fat Joe and Remy Ma, as well as a performance by GRAMMY Award-winner Busta Rhymes featuring special guest BIA. "GMA" will announce the final performance to round out the 2023 Summer Concert Series lineup soon.
